3.4. Authorisation to a third party

An authorisation to another person can be given using the appropriate form. This is possible for any person providing proof of difficulties in visiting a library due to illness, disability or other valid reasons.

All authorisations to a third party are submitted to the library management for approval.

4. Obligations

4.1. Obligations of users

Readers must show their card – or its digitised version on an appropriate mobile application - each time they borrow documents or renew loans. The card is non-transferable and should only be used by the registered card holder.

Users are responsible for their card and for all material borrowed on their card.

Users must inform the libraries of any change concerning personal data and/or status. Users must immediately report lost or stolen cards to one of the libraries.

Generally, documents must be returned to the library from which they were borrowed. Some libraries accept the return of documents borrowed elsewhere (see section J of the Annex).

Users are responsible for the use of resources at their disposal. It is their responsibility to ensure in particular that copyright law is respected.

4.2. Obligations of libraries

In accordance with legal provisions on the protection of data, libraries are not allowed to divulge information concerning registered users or loan transactions to any third party.

5. Restrictions

Libraries are authorized to restrict loans or exclude documents from loan for reasons of availability, conservation or to avoid infringement of copyright law as well as for any other major reason.

6. Costs and sanctions

6.1. User card

There is a charge for the issue of the card and its replacement (see section C of the Annex).

6.2. Fines, reminders

Late return of documents will lead to a fine, in accordance with the published tariff (see section D of the Annex). Fines are charged per day and per document, even if no reminder has been received, regardless of the user's status.

Fines and handling charges must be paid within 30 days after the date they are added to the reader account, which is accessible online.

If documents are not returned on time, reminder notices will be issued (see section D of the Annex), after which a handling charge will be imposed in addition to the fine.

The fine and the handling charge, if applicable, are still due if the renewal of the loan is requested after the initial loan period has elapsed.

6.3. Damage, loss

In case of damage to or loss of documents, readers will be liable for repair or replacement costs, including any handling expenses which may ensue.

Where the lost item forms part of a series and can not be acquired separately, the user may be liable for the cost of replacing the entire set. The library determines the price of documents which are no longer in print.

6.4. Theft

Unauthorised removal of library materials will be reported to a penal authority. Sanctions described in Article 6.5 can also be taken.

6.5. Suspension of borrowing privileges

Borrowing privileges may be withdrawn for the entire RERO network, in case of non-payment of charges or fines, or of failure to comply with the present regulations, including with complementary documents mentioned in article 7, or of misuse of resources.

7. Complementary documents

The present regulations are supplemented by user guides, rules or other local regulations specifying individual library policies.
